

Gemstone and Precious Stones Tariff Classification Breakdown on ASYCUDAWorld

The Zambia Revenue Authority in collaboration with the Ministry of Mines and Minerals Development has been working to improve business processes in monitoring the Mineral Value Chain and introducing initiatives that facilitate efficiency in the conduct of business in the mining industry.

This collaboration has successfully implemented the monitoring of base metals and some precious metals through the online issuance of export permits and other related processes on the Mineral Output Statistical Evaluation System (MOSES).

The Authority will therefore, be introducing additional Unique Codes to the tariff/classification codes on the Customs Systems, ASYCUDA, with effect from Thursday, 22nd June, 2023, to facilitate unique identification of the various Gemstones and precious stones that currently are classified using one residual tariff line. This will assist in identifying and accounting for the various Gemstones and other Minerals that are Mined and exported out of Zambia.

The list of tariffs and the unique codes or precision is hereby provided.
